History of Vinegar
Vinegar may be specialised position. Most of the world's vinegar is made in what is now Taiwan which exports the vinegar to many other parts of the world. In the 20th century, the production of vinegar was revolutionized by the invention of the acetic acid bacteria. This process is now used for both medicinal and industrial purposes. Many Chinese vinegars are still made using traditional methods. Evidence of ancient vinegar-making is found in the 3000 year old Chinese text, the Shennong Bencaojing. The first evidence of vinegar-making is found in the ancient Chinese text, the Shennong Bencaojing.
